Turkey Foot Dominoes

November 11 is Domino Day, and November is, of course, “turkey month.” In honor of both, try playing a simple version of the domino game Chicken Foot but call it Turkey Foot instead.

Number of players: 2–6

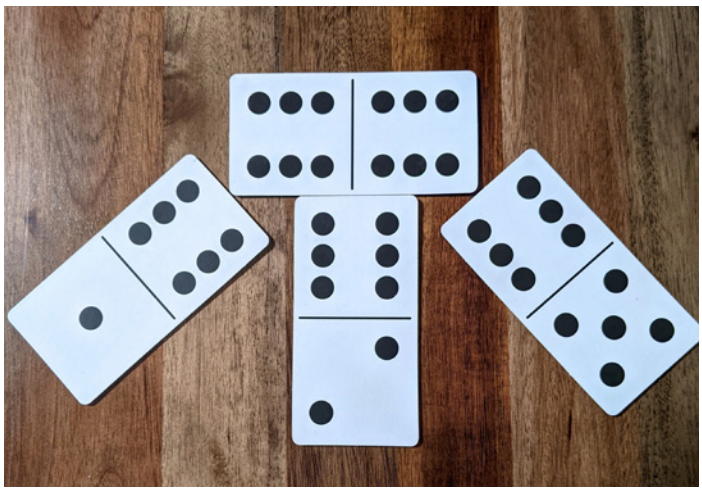
Object of the game: Be the first player to use all your dominoes.

You will need:

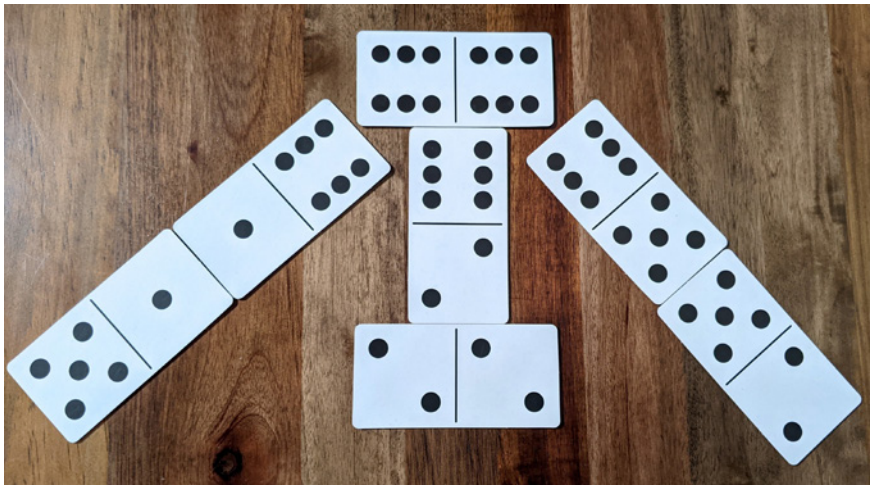
- Two sets of double-6 dominoes (56 total dominoes)
- (Optional) Domino trays

Playing:

1. Mix up the dominoes and place them facedown on the table.
2. Players take dominoes:
    - If two people are playing, they take 20 dominoes each.
    - If three people are playing, they take 13 dominoes each.
    - If four people are playing, they take 10 dominoes each.
    - If five people are playing, they take 8 dominoes each.
    - If six people are playing, they take 5 dominoes each.
3. Players turn their dominoes faceup. They can allow others to see their dominoes or use a domino holder. The remaining dominoes stay facedown and should be moved off to the side in what is called the “boneyard.”
4. If a player has the double-6 domino, they take the first turn and place their domino horizontally in the center of the table. If no one has the double-6, the person with the highest double (double-5, double-4, double-3, and so on) goes first. After that, play moves to the left.



5. The next three dominoes to be played must all have the number that matches the number of the first domino that was laid down. These three dominoes are placed on the original domino like turkey claws as shown below.



6. If a player doesn't have a playable domino when it's their turn, they draw one domino from the boneyard. If they can play that domino, they lay it down. If not, play passes to the next person.

7. Each time a player uses a double domino, they lay it down horizontally, and the next three players must play a domino that has the number of the double domino on it to make another turkey claw. Once the three claws are placed, play resumes as usual.

8. The first person to use all their dominoes wins the round.

Thanksgiving Day

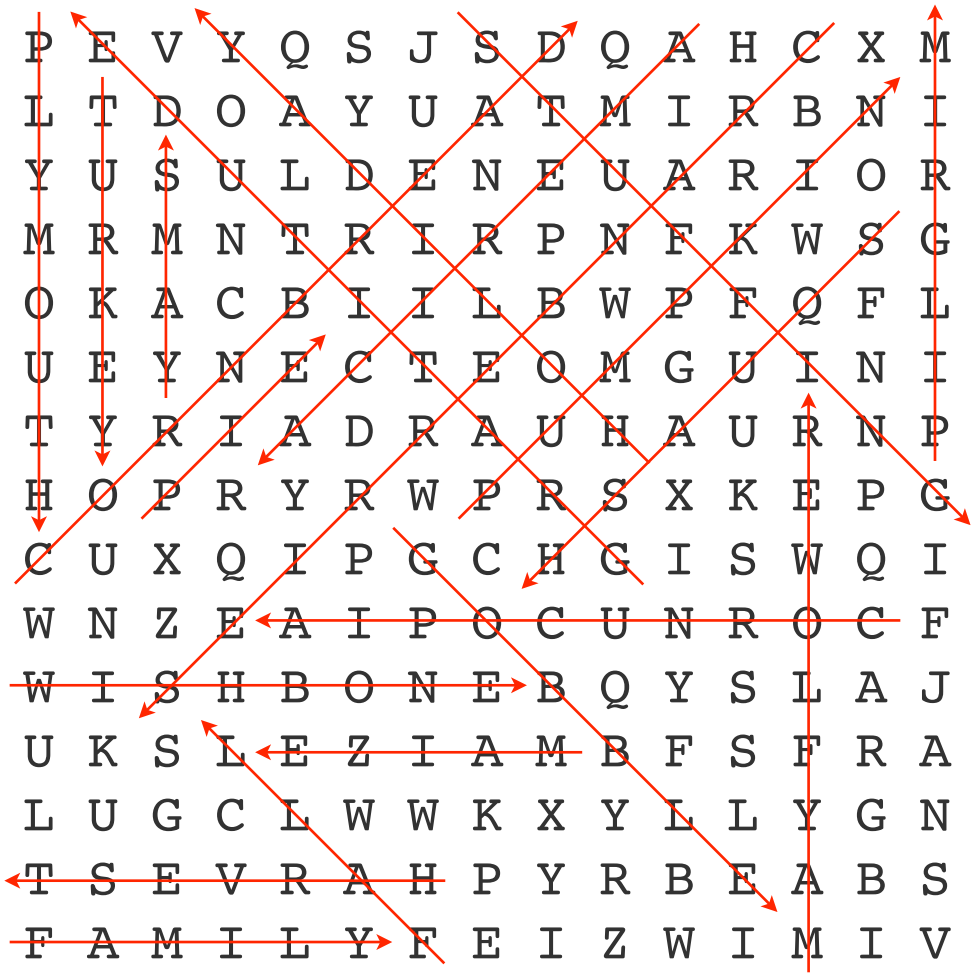
(solution)



©ActivityConnection.com

Li'l Juice Box "Punkins"

Wrap a juice box like a gift. Then add a paper stem and orange ribbon to decorate a ledge with a message of gratitude.

To make one punkin, you will need:

- Juice box (Be mindful of the expiration date if you intend to drink it after Thanksgiving.)
- Decorative fall or orange paper (scrapbook paper, Thanksgiving paper napkin, wrapping paper, etc.)
- Card stock (green for a stem and light tone for a tag)
- 5/8"-wide orange ribbon
- Twine and small bundle of raffia (12" each)
- Pen or fine-tip marker
- Scotch tape
- Scissors, hole punch, and ruler

Display a picture of a completed Li'l Juice Box "Punkins" project to excite crafters.

Directions:

1. With the straw still attached to the juice box, wrap it like a gift with decorative paper.

2. To make a stem, roll a 2" X 6" strip of green card stock into a cylinder shape with a diameter about 1/2" wide (about the same width as your index finger).

3. Cut four 1/2" slits on the bottom edge of the cylinder, positioning them at north, south, east, and west. Bend the tabs up and then pinch the base of the stem flat, just above the tabs. Tape the tabs to the wrapped box to add the stem. (Attach the stem to the small side to make a tall pumpkin, or add the stem to the long side to make a short pumpkin.)

4. Wrap 2 strands of orange ribbon around the sides of the box, covering the tabs, and then tape the ends of the ribbon to the bottom of the box.

5. Cut a strip of light-colored card stock to make a tag large enough for a one- or two-word message of gratitude. The tag shouldn't exceed 1" X 2". Punch a hole at one end and then write your message.

6. Fold the twine in half and tie the ends together with a knot. Slip the folded end through the hole. Bring the knotted end through the loop made by the fold. Tighten twine and then slip it over the pumpkin stem.

7. Tie the bundle of raffia around the base of the stem. Cut off the excess, and your Li'l Juice Box Punkin is ready to display or give as a gift.
